

We sent our first dog to RLK three years ago and were so impressed with their training techniques and professionalism, we've since sent two more dogs. The obedience and force fetch training have helped our dogs with their accomplishments which include qualifying for nationals three years in a row, and qualifying for world in the NUCS division. Our dogs have won 25 dog BDC tournaments and NUCS tournaments time after time and are consistent in their hunting techniques. Our dogs are all just one win away from their titles. I firmly believe RLK is to thank. These people know dogs and genuinely care about the animals they train. I've seen them train and they always use positive reinforcement and expose the dogs to various trials. It is so gratifying to see our dogs perform their best in the field. RLK is a one of a kind kennel committed to a dogs top performance. I would recommend RLK to anyone wanting a gun dog to perform their absolute best.
